Several of the Hawaiians placed in learn are not in sympathy with the

STATE DINNER.

Her Majesty Gives a Royal Reception at the Palace Last Evening.

A List of the Ladies and Gentle- men Present.

Her Majesty the Queen gave a State dinner at the Palace last evening. The State dining room was profusely dressed with flowers and evergreens. The table was exquisitely decorated and presented one of the handsomest sights imaginable. The decorations were under the immediate supervision of Mrs.
James W. Robertson, assisted by Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Freeth, Mrs.
Clark, and Mrs. Norrie, and reflected great credit on the ladies mentioned for their artistic skill.
The royal dinner commenced about 8 o'clock and continued for over two hours. No speech-making was indulged in, but a number of toasts were offered wishing Her Majesty good health, a long reign and happiness.
During the dinner the Royal Hawaiian Band was stationed on the Palace veranda adding their share to the success of the evening. The following ladies and gentlemen besides Her Majesty were present:

Hawaii's Trouble Solely Finan- cial.

In conversation here recently, about the rumors of changes in Hawaii's method of government, Mr. Spreckels said:
"There is no prospect of any change as long as the present ruler lives. All the reports to the contrary are baseless. There will always be complaints in any country by those who are 'out' against those who are 'in' office. Hawaii's trouble is solely financial, and has come through the interference of the Mc-Kinley bill with her sugar traffic, under treaty with the United States.
This country could help Hawaii out of that trouble if the authorities were willing, I am sure.
"When I hear talk about annexing Hawaii to the United States," continued Mr. Spreckels, "I am always reminded of an episode at a banquet given in San Francisco to the late King Kalakaua. He had made a speech and several prominent Pacific Coast men followed, nearly every one of whom mentioned annexation in a jocular or serious manner. Kalakaua finally rose to his feet as one of them sat down and said: 'I like this talk about annexation very much and I have a plan for carrying it into execution. I will annex the United States to Hawaii and rule over both countries as Emperor as soon as you are ready.'
"There was nothing more said at the banquet about annexation."
